Albert Schweitzer

Supervising Principal, Henry E. Galloway

Assistant Supervising Principal and Junior-Senior High School Principal John Tkaczow.

Board and administration

Assistant Supervising Principal for Curriculum and Instruction, Walter Whitlock.

Problems never seem to faze our administration or Board of Education. Mr. John King, formerly a senior high math teacher, this year assumed the role of Administration Assistant. By aiding the rest of the administration, Mr. King has kept educational processes flowing smoothly.

Unchanged since last year, the Board of Education has retained the full support of the public and the administration.

seek a smooth running school

Office personnel manage efficiently

Forgotten lunches, gym bags, and excuses flow in the offices from tolerant parents and into the hands of our secretaries. These staff members interrupt typing and filing and sorting attendance cards to locate the student.

Phones ring constantly in the junior, senior, guidance, and board of education offices. The secretaries take messages from parents, students, teachers and salesmen.

They help with working papers and excuses, prepare materials for Board of Education members, type a constant stream of letters, and keep our bulging guidance folders.

Many work during our summer vacation getting out orders for books and equipment, while others help the guidance counselors make out our schedule cards and prepare class lists.

Vital services performed expertly

Members of the cafeteria, maintenance and custodian staffs keep Chenango Valley out of difficulties that might plague such a school. Their invaluable service benefits both students and teachers and contributes important services to Chenango Valley.

Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Schwartz serve spaghetti for lunch.

Our indispensable janitors, Mr. Hill and Mr. Wales, take a much deserved pause.

English proves

The English Department changed this year with the addition of three new teachers, Miss Hill, Miss Fairchild, and Mr. Gianakouros, and with the appointment of Mr. Schwarz as Department head.

Many extracurricular activities are sponsored by English teachers. These include Mrs. Volkwein with Debate Club and Literary Club, Mr. Miller with Dramatics Club, and Mrs. Crandall and Mr. Van Keuren in the joint sponsorship of the WARRIOR and the QUILL.

History promotes good citizenship

Through the study of history, students become better citizens. Textbooks concentrating on past history are supplemented by "Newsweek" and the "American Observer" which concentrate on current events. Aside from the required history courses, Problems of Democracy is taught by Mrs. Phryne Liddy. This course deals with social and economic problems.

Extracurricular activities sponsored by members of the history department provide an informal opportunity to study history.

The Historical Society headed by Mr. William Weckel has sponsored movies which have been open to the student body. Scholarship opportunities are made available through the Maxwell Scholarship program. The new additions to the history department were Mr. Edward Banks and Mr. David Marble.

C.V. adopts "modern math" program

"Modern math has caused a revolution in math education." With a revision of the state syllabus, an emphasis is placed on the "why" of math.

Algebra students took a regents in June and Solid Geometry was dropped to make room for a more applicable full year course. Mr. Gerald Skwish, the new addition to the math department faculty, teaches Junior High Math.

Mrs. Margaret Hardy, head of the math department, again taught a night course of new math for 23 elementary teachers. Mrs. Hardy also taught the Advanced Placement and an advanced placement examination was given at the end of the year.

Another addition to the math department was an IBM computer purchased by the Junior High Math Club.

Better understanding of math through modern methods was promoted and the emphasis was placed on math in the classroom and the technical world.

Mrs. Hardy makes her point in geometry class.

Mr. Eggleston concentrates on balancing the scales.

Mr. Zeman demonstrates water measurement to Gerald Waterman.

Science changes to meet the times

The vast number of scientific changes taking place require that everyone have a basic knowledge of science to be well informed in today's world.

Junior High science is aimed at giving the student a basic scientific understanding. Whether a student terminates his study at the Junior High level or continues in a more specialized field, Junior High science gives him a useful background.

Senior High science is designed for students who wish to continue in a specialized field of study. The Chemistry department has revised its course of study according to the new state syllabus, one of 95 schools in New York State participating in this experimental course. The results of the Chemistry regents will be used by the state as a basis to judge the effectiveness of this experimental program. Mr. Richard Weiss conducts an advanced placement biology course. Most colleges recognize this course and full credit is given to students when they enter college.

This year three new members have been added to the science department. They are, Miss Suzanne J. Quick, Mr. Patrick M. Eggleston and Samuel A. Zeman.

World of business opened to students

Bookkeeping, Office and Secretarial Practice, Business Law, Typing, and Shorthand comprise the general divisions of the Business Department headed by Mr. James Wheeler. This department's main purpose is to offer courses necessary to train students for a business career.

The only new teacher in the business department this year is Mrs. Christine Abbott.

Under Mrs. Ruth Riter, chairman, the language department introduces foreign culture to the students of Chenango Valley.

The language department has added two new teachers to their staff this year. They are Mrs. Marilyn Snipe, a French teacher and Miss June Fairchild a Latin teacher.

Language Laboratories have been widely used this year. Backgrounds of the various languages have been stressed and are believed to be an important part of the modern foreign language program.

Industrial Arts encourage creativity

Mr. Harris demonstrates a shop technique to Jim Sisson.

Vocational Training is taught to many students by the Industrial Arts department which is headed by Mr. Milo De Castro.

Among the many subjects taught by this department are: wood, metal, electrical and auto shops and drawing mechanics.

Students design and construct many useful projects.

Everything from reconstructing cars to printing tickets for school dances are projects being done in the Industrial Arts department.

Under Miss Martha Millen, chairman, the Home Economics department introduces different creative arts to the students of Chenango Valley.

The students are instructed in cooking, sewing, child care and interior decoration.

The F. H. A. annually presents a Christmas tea for the faculty. All decorations and food served at the tea are prepared by the F. H. A.

Mrs. Thompson supervises the making of Christmas cookies for the faculty tea.

Arts cooperation

Four choruses, a marching band, a Broadway musical, the annual Spring Festival of Arts, and the annual Scholastic Art Exhibit kept music and art actively participating in school life.

Re-establishment of the Val-aires proved successful. They were invited to perform approximately twenty-five concerts for local organizations. Under the direction of Mr. Gerald Bruce, the Chamber Orchestra for the first time accompanied the Concert Choir in Bach's # 142 Cantata for the Christmas Concert.

Survival of the fittest

Chenango Valley has added to the physical education staff three new teachers: Mrs. Daub, a junior high teacher, Miss Hall, an alumna of C.V., and Mr. Cashman, who teaches and also coaches. Gym classes, attended twice a week by each student, provide a good opportunity for active participation in a variety of sports.

Health education is a field that always seems to be advancing, both by its own achievements and by growing student interest. It makes the student aware of himself, his surroundings, and other people. Mr. Wilson's favorite axiom, "Health is Wealth," exemplifies the spirit of most of his students.

Growing interest and participation in Chenango Valley's Driver Education program has led to the addition of two new practice cars. Because of this change, two new instructors, Mr. Reese and Mr. Travis were added to the staff. Defensive driving and safety are the main fundamentals taught, aiding students in learning the most proper and skillful way to drive.

Mr. Reese prepares to deal with a few women drivers.

Mr. Wilson demonstrates good posture at his hall post.

Information please

The Guidance Department is responsible for scheduling many information sessions with college, military services, and employment representatives. It is also responsible for keeping juniors and seniors posted on pertinent information through the junior and senior bulletins.

The Chenango Valley Library hosts one of the best selections in the area. 263 new books are available in the Senior High library and 150 more are on order. The library also offers a total of 90 periodicals and three daily newspapers.

Student life is friendship

The struggle for self government

Our student council undertook many programs sponsoring the First Fall Fling and the second annual homecoming, crowning Andrea Piza as homecoming queen. Two needy families were given food for their Thanksgiving dinners. Toys were given to children at Christmas time. Both of these activities were carried on with the contributions of the student body. Money was given to the Foster Parents plan in cooperation with other clubs.

Honor Societies instill character

Senior and Junior Honor Society is characterized by scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Officers Ken Maines, president; Suzanne Johnson, vice-president; Joy Zimmer, secretary; and Bruce Duncan, treasurer, have led Senior Honor Society in activities including giving money to the Student Loan Fund, supporting a foster child, and sponsoring a dance.

Junior Honor Society under Dan Parotte, president; Jeannette Smith, vice-president; Cheryl Parotte, secretary; and Jean Lawson, treasurer, was also very active—a bakesale, donations to the Student Loan Fund, help for a handicapped child, a gift of money to the senior with the highest average, and sale of Warrior jewelry.

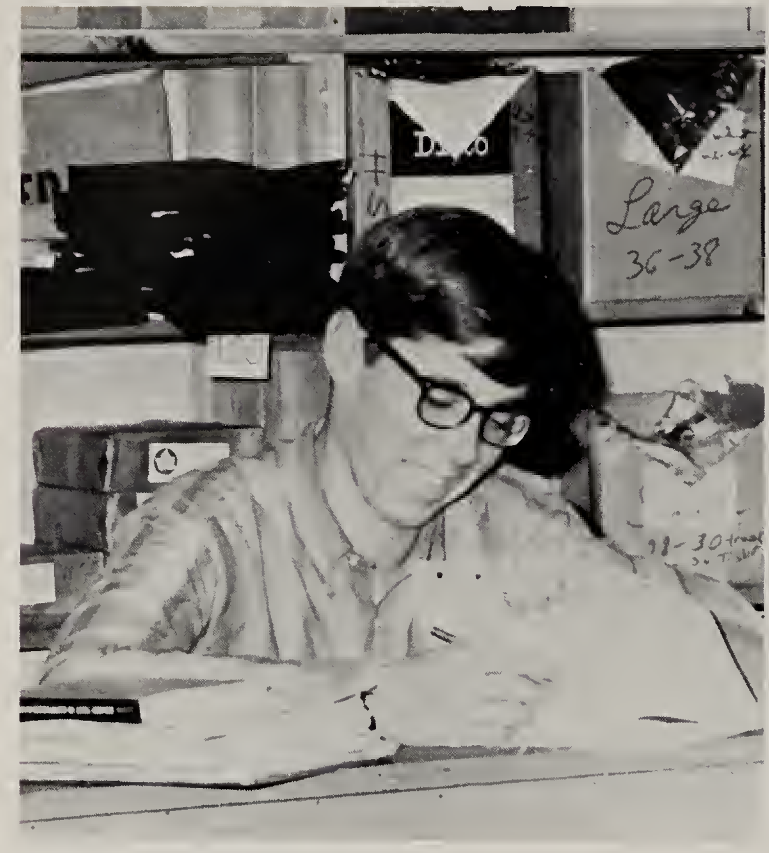
Key club and Varsity club



Carl Johnson minds the book store.

Key Club's goals of leadership and citizenship were carried out through community projects—contributing to charities as well as school projects—the operation of the book store, the concession stand for the Kiwanis Travelogue programs, and the sponsoring of the King Football dance. The officers are: Reid Williams, president; Charles Lawrence, treasurer; Dave Lewis, vice-president; Greg Webb, secretary; and Douglas Berg, assistant secretary.

Varsity Club, another active organization under officers Clayton Axtell, President; Gary Worden, vice-president; Jim Newell, secretary; Bruce Duncan, treasurer; and Ivan Randall, sergeant at arms, sponsored a basketball game featuring the "Shooting Stars," attended a professional basketball game in Syracuse, and had a swimming party with Senior Leaders Club.

Varsity Club and Key Club have jointly supported the proposed swimming pool project and sponsored an assembly program on it.

Schussers stamp

Chenango Valley Ski Club has grown to immeasureable heights with its active participation during the winter months. This year a new lesson plan was started at Innsbruck and it proved to be a schussbooming success.

Other plans were made to visit other nearby ski centers.

With the advisors Miss Aswad and Mr. Newton, the club officers Clayton Axtell, president; Gary Michalek, vice president, and treasurer, and Marilyn Rose secretary also planned on the waxing and edge sharpening of skis as well as techniques of skiing.

Organized three years ago, Pep Club is now in full swing. Under the leadership of Nancie Singer with the help of vice-president Gary Dukerich, secretary-treasurer Andy Pize, and committee chairman Bonnie Bell, Pep Club sold megaphones to buy C. V. warrior buttons. Also the club sponsored a post basketball game dance.

Over 250 members have listened to different coaches give talks on their sports at meetings through the year. The poster committee has been effective in stirring up school spirit. Transportation for away games was provided for the enthusiastic C.V. fans.

Cheerleaders rouse pre-game enthusiasm at a pep rally

This year the cheerleaders under their new advisor, Miss Francis Hall, kept school spirit alive. The football season was dim, but under football captain, Jeanne Bobbit, the cheerleaders kept the crowd cheering until the final play. Martha Wagstaff, cheerleading manager, has been busy providing needs at home and away games.

The J. V. cheerleaders have cheered on the J. V. basketball team under a rotating captain system. Manager Elaine Williams has been helping Martha and the squads think up new cheers. Both squads are trying hard to control school spirit so C.V. will again win the good sportsmanship award.

Colorful atmosphere sends crowd into a spin

Mr. Buchmaier's stage band has become one of the most popular music groups in the school. They have played in special programs in school assemblies. One of their most enjoyed performances was during the annual school talent show.

The orchestra, under our new teacher Mr. Bruce played in several concerts and accompanied the concert chorus in the Christmas program.

Accompanying the band during all football games and parades were the color guard and the twirlers. They provided an extra flair to the band in half-time entertainment.

FHA prepares for holiday season.

Students

Under the leadership of officers Loretta Taft, president; Nancy McNitt, vice-president; Mary Lou Dimmick, secretary; and Dianne Moulthrop, treasurer, FHA has served the school through the Christmas Tea for the teachers and the Fashion Show. As a money-making project, the club sold Kissy Bells and sleighs.

Student Patrol's main function is to help regulate corridor traffic. The members are approved by the teachers and must maintain a certain academic average.

As another service, Patrol gives a scholarship award to a deserving Senior at the end of the year.

The officers for this year are Carolyn Boehmke, president; Joyce Coon, vice-president; Bonnie Lawyer, secretary; and Jim Capalino, treasurer.

Receptionists under the guidance of Mrs. Cook have welcomed many visitors and students.

Health Careers, under Mrs. Whitaker's direction prepares high school students for working in the fields of health and medicine.

Red Cross provides service to the school and groups of patients in the community by means of visits and gifts.

Library Assistants make the work of the library easier on the staff—checking out books and shelving returned ones.

Business Club members provide a service to the teachers by typing memos and tests. Business Club also has field trips, one of which was to the Press Building.

Clubs create a business-like atmosphere

Historical Society, under officers Alice Cullen, president; Suzanne Johnson, secretary; Cherie Pash, treasurer, has sponsored many movies for the student body. They have taken trips to various historical locations including Washington and Gettysburg.

Clubs sponsor films visit NY, Washington attend lectures

Sue Johnson and Linda Closs discuss business of Historical Society.

The Junior High Math Club purchased a small computer kit and some members have set up simple programs. They took a trip to New York City to visit the N. Y. stock exchange, United Nations, and the American Museum of Natural History. To finance this trip they held a bake sale, a candy sale, a toothbrush sale, and a movie. The officers for this year are Steve Gilbert; president, Steve Mangan; vice-president, Nancy Connor; secretary, John Babcock; treasurer, and Nanette Connor; social chairman.

Respect for human freedom prompted the formation of the Human Rights Club. Presently in its second year, this club is trying to eliminate social problems by becoming more aware of them.

Activities undertaken this year have been attending the lecture of James Farmer, the Director of CORE at Broome Tech; sponsoring independent student participation in the tutoring program at the Interracial Society; and holding a bake sale in order to raise funds to show a movie free of charge.

The officers are D. Smith; N. Goldberger, J. Goldberger, J. Hancock. Steve Rennell, Jim Capalino, Linda Yonchuk, Nancy Goldberger, Fran Austin.

Culture through art

Carolyn Kittredge tries her skill at the Potters's Wheel.

Debate Club with officers Sue Johnson, president, David Hessney, vice-president, Linda Yonchuk, secretary, and Mike Scott, treasurer, has had debates among members of the club and with other schools. Sue Johnson and Mike Scott successfully participated in the Under 21 Debate on WINR TV. The annual assembly on the topic, Resolved: Female Citizens of the United States should be subject to selective service was held and stirred up much interest and controversy among the students.

Students in Senior Art Club under the guidance of Mrs. Lester tried to advance their artistic ability. Successful results were shown with many awards in the Scholastic Art Show.

Resolved: CV's success undebatable

Members of the debate club seem to be pondering over a very important topic for a future debate.

We try harder

Kathy MacDonough and Jan Miller sing about their favorite things.

Our annual talent show provided the most popular assembly for the year. Most of the acts were musical: folk music by Christy Peterson and Carol Rose, Jan Miller and Kathy MacDonough and Nora Fitzgerald; popular music by the stage band, the Rovers, Otto and the Fatstabulets, and Louise Franz; the classical point of view from David Hessney and his janitor; the great European sound from the Hungry Five. The only exception to the music theme were an interesting interview with Maud Fricket and the Smothers Sisters' comedy act.

The Hungry Five show off—their beautiful legs.

Dramatics Club officers: Marty Wagstaff, Secretary; Marilyn Rose, Treasurer; Carl Johnson, Vice-President; Clayton Axtell, President.

Suit the action to

Marty Wagstaff, Mary Biedlingmaier and Dan Smith reflect tenseness in "The Mind of a Killer".

Dramatics Club Advisor, Mr. Miller, emotes.

Under the guidance of Mr. Richard Miller, the Dramatics Club has had a very successful season. Much credit should go to the students who, through long hours of practice, have made the production possible. Special thanks should go to the Tech Crew and the others who helped behind the scenes with lighting, scenery, costumes, and make-up.

the words

In May 1965, King Richard II, a Shakespearean historical play was presented. This marked the first time an area school undertook the challenge of producing one of Shakespeare's tragedies. All the hard work and energy used was not wasted for the play was considered a great success throughout the school and the surrounding area.

February 1966 saw the performance of a psychological melodrama, "The Mind of a Killer". Portrayal of the characters was well done. It was a different type of production which, once again was well-received by the student body.

Russian Club, a small one but increasing language club has sold candy to boost the treasury for their activities. The club, under the leadership of Cathy Butch President, Elaine Miner Vice-President, Becki Taylor secretary and Larry Brown treasurer, sponsored an historical movie for the students and took a trip to New York City to see a Russian ballet troupe.

French Club officers Gretchen Wooden President, Cherie Pash vice president, Joy Zimmer secretary, and Shirley Ives treasurer planned with other members of French Club a Christmas dinner-dance with the Central High French Club. A play was presented for entertainment, "Notre Heritage de Noel." A French movie "The Red and the Black" was shown later on in the year.

This year Latin Club has created a great interest among Latin Students. It has presented very interesting programs including one with slides of Mr. Giaukourous's trip to Greece. A Latin Banquet was held in the spring and was a great enjoyment for the "Latins"

The Spanish Club, under a new Constitution, sold candy in School this year. The members are planning a trip to either New York City or Puerto Rico. Club officers are Elaine Saenz President, Nancy Green Vice President, Celia Sisson Secretary, Peter Copeland Treasurer.

The QUILL, under the leadership of Linda Lawton, editor-in-chief, and Sue Johnson her assistant, editorially endorsed the student campaign for a senior lounge and regularly presented exchange student news, features on various clubs, spotlights on outstanding students and teachers and encouraged students to express themselves with Letters-to-the-Editor.

Alex Fiato's Punkin Duster added humor to the paper and Mr. Van Keuren was kept busy trying to delete Alex's fraternity symbols from appearing monthly in the strip. Reid Williams, sports editor, wrote a column. Ski Glee appeared during the winter months and Aswad's Amazons, a well-received column featuring girls' athletics was constituted.

Under the assistance of advisors Mr. Ralph Van Keuren, Mrs. Snowden Crandall, and Mrs. Erema Davis, QUILL sales reached an all-time high in 1965-66. With the help of Carolyn Boehmke business manager, the QUILL got out of the red.

You can have your cake and

Mr. Van Keuren ponders the approaching deadlines.

Through hard work and much sacrificing of time, members of the staff, under the leadership of Mr. Van Keuren, compiled and recorded the events of 1965-66 for the Chenango Valley students.

Saturdays found staff members busy in the Press Room, working under the guidance of Kathie Cole, Editor-in-Chief, and Bruce Duncan, Assistant Editor.

So this is what goes on at Yearbook meetings.

Kathie faced many problems: meeting the deadline, dodging snowballs, and keeping dry.

One new feature of the yearbook was the introduction of colored pictures.

The cooperation of students, teachers, and administration has been widely appreciated in an effort to produce the most exciting yearbook to date at CV.

Coaches develope sportsmanship

This year's football warriors experienced a somewhat unsuccessful season due, largely, to inexperience. New head coach Jack Cashman, who replaced retired coach Mike Durbin, inherited a squad with only five returning lettermen.

Bill Rowe scored the only TD against Norwich, in the first loss which broke the 19 game undefeated string. Jim Lawson had a commendable 87 yard passing game in the second loss, against Waverly which brought along the two unstoppable Stiger brothers.

Out-sized by the visiting Auburn team, CV made it close in the first half, exchanging first period TD's. From then on it was all Auburn. Gary Worden did a fine job at guard block two extra point attempts.

Although the Warriors racked up five more first downs than Owego, each of their drives was ended short of the endzone by a lost ball or an interception.

Success with Sidney

With the season half over, Coach Cashman converted to an all senior defense and an underclassman offense. This proved successful when CV almost upset M-E in a 10-6 loss. Jim Lawson, in probably his best game, ran for a 15 yard TD. Several bad breaks gave M-E the victory.

If the offense just could have put CV on the scoreboard, the SV game could have been another story. Our senior defense held them to 6 points.

Playing out of their league, the red and gray bowed to North, but not before Ivan Randall stole the ball and raced 81 yards for the first TD of the game.

The true potential of the CV squad came forth in their final game of the season. In a desperation effort, the seniors were all placed in the offense and TD's by Mike Scott, Bill Rowe, and Gary Worden were the result.

This year's jayvees had a record of 0-7 and the freshmen went 1-5, but both outfits had promising individuals. Mr. Wilson's junior high soccer team had a slate of 6-3-1. He took a varsity squad to U-E for an experimental game.

Underclassmen lead team to victory

Harriers receive recognition from student body.

Chenango Valley's cross country team completed another excellent season despite the loss of its entire varsity squad through graduation. Led mainly by underclassmen, they continued the school record of never being defeated in dual meets. With the loss of last year's team, predictions weren't very favorable for this year, but juniors Greg Webb and Al Whieldon and sophomores Bud Sweet and Gary LeRoy teamed up with senior Gary Leighton to compile CV's first undefeated regular season.

Greg Webb passes Taggert to regain lead.

After defeating U-E in a dual meet, to start the season, the Harriers traveled to the Shaker Invitational, where Greg Webb's sixth place followed by Al Whieldon's eighth, Gary Leighton's ninth, Gary LeRoy's eleventh and Bud Sweet's thirteenth were sufficient to take the meet. This meet demonstrated the tremendous balance which caused Coach McDaniel to say that he has never had a team that ran as close as this one.

Extending their string of victories, the squad took the Baldwinsville run from a field of 524 participants and went on to top the annual Sid Stock Invitational at Vestal. This year's new course, was dedicated when the CV team won the Chenango Valley Invitational and then the next week, they captured the Triple Cities Championship to remain undefeated in the history of the event.

To complete the regular season they journeyed to Cincinnatus where our runners placed four men in the top ten to far outdistance the closest rival. Continuing their success the Harriers won the Section IV Championship to make it five out of the last six years.

With four of the top five varsity runners returning, expectations are optimistic for next year's season.

Seniors dominate winning season

Owego defense fails to stop Doug Berg.

Despite the loss of four of last year's starters this year's basketball team compiled a winning season record of twelve victories and six losses. In a very close Triple Cities League race, four teams including Chenango Valley, each had a chance at the title, but our squad finished fourth with a 8-6 Triple Cities League record.

Mr. McDaniel, last year's JV coach, easily stepped up to the varsity position since he had already coached most of the boys. A new scoring record was set against Sydney when the Warriors tallied 93 points. Bruce Duncan brought the team another distinction in being named to the Triple Cities All Star Team. The final game of the season at Susquehanna Valley also saw him surpass Maine-Endwell's 6-10 Jim LaRue to capture the Triple Cities League scoring crown with 253 points in Triple Cities League competition.

The team was plagued all year without a definite starting five. Each game was highlighted by different individuals in different combinations. This was shown in the Johnson City game where five players came off the bench to pull the team from a 20 point deficit.

Underclassmen gain experience

Thrilling victories in an early season win at Maine-Endwell and an overtime win against Central proved to be two of the outstanding games of the season. The team was noted this year for its tremendous second-half comebacks to salvage wins.

This year's JV season was interrupted when their coach, Mr. Weckel, was hospitalized. Mr. Smyk did a commendable job filling for him. The team record was eight wins and ten defeats. Gary Boughton and Chuck Hissin led the team in scoring.

Coach Sestak's Freshman team compiled an overall record of 11-4. Their 10-4 record in the Triple Cities League was good enough for first place, which shows a promising future. Behind the scoring of Charles Slagle and Dave Sweet, the eighth grade team had a record of nine and three, and the seventh grade went one and two.

Individuals highlight season

Coach Harvey's wrestlers wound up a somewhat disappointing season with an overall record of three wins, eight losses, and two ties. Individual victories highlighted many close matches, but the team had difficulty putting them together. A big match of the year was the near upset of the powerful Chenango Forks team, which resulted in a close 22-18 final score. After a big win over North in the first match the Warriors compounded a record of two ties in the Triple Cities League.

Dale Graham had the most successful record of the squad, with 15 wins and 1 loss in the 95 pound weight class. He is seeded second in the sectionals and promises to be a strong favorite next year. Seniors Ken Graham with a 9-4 record, Dave Hall with 7-6, Dale Smith with 7-6-1 and Terry Bennet with 6-4, ended their wrestling career on a winning note. Mr. Tosh's Junior Varsity had a very encouraging record of 10 victories and 3 losses. The Junior High squad was 4-3 under Mr. Banks.

Reinstated athletics round out season

Tennis, golf and bowling were withdrawn from the athletic program during the previous season. They were reinstated this year but the loss of a year didn't hurt the teams seriously. Last year's tennis squad tallied an impressive overall record of 14 wins against 1 loss to become the Triple Cities Champions. Our number one and number two men Bill Tozer and Jim Brown respectively teamed up to the Section IV doubles championship. The team finished second in Section IV.

With a record of 3 and 11 the golf team wasn't quite as successful. Half of the lettermen will be returning though which is promising for next year.

Bowling has good prospects of finishing with a 500 season, although they have no outstanding performers. Participating seniors were Dave Snow and Bill Rowe.

successful record

Led by the consistent hitting of John Reid, at 429, and Bob Knowles at 420 the baseball warriors completed another fine season with an overall record of 12 wins and 4 losses.

Tied with UE for 1st place in the TCL, with 8 victories and 3 defeats the ensuing playoff dropped CV into second place.

With a commendable 10-4 record the JV squad showed promise for next year's varsity team, and the reinstated frosh went 2 and 5.

With a record of 5 wins and 2 losses in dual meets, the track team went on to one of its most successful seasons by defeating 29 teams and losing to only 5 in their numerous competitions. They finished 2nd in the Triple Cities Championship, 2nd in the Northern Zone Meet, and went on to win the Section IV Class A finals. Nine boys participated in the intersectionals, where they gave CV a tie for 1st place.

This remarkable team broke 12 school records out of only 16 existing events, among which were state records by Ray Smith in the mile, and Dave Brinsko in the two-mile.

graduation . . . .
. . . the end . . . or the beginning?

YES . . . AND NO . . .

Graduation is the end of an era in your life.

It's also the beginning of a new era for you . . . a period when the responsibilities of adulthood suddenly appear.

"Bank standing" is something that will help you meet those responsibilities head-on. By doing business with a bank through use of checking, savings, loan or other facilities, you establish the financial reputation and maturity that today's successful person needs.

Throughout your life . . . the only bank you'll ever need is First-City.
